

A core global fixed income solution that can go anywhere to earn income in all credit environments

Why global bonds?

1. Increase yields

- Canadian yields at historically low levels
- Limited high yield opportunities in Canada

2. Reduce overall interest rate risk

- Investing in sectors with lower and higher duration reduces overall sensitivity to rate hikes
- Investing in different geographies reduces interest rate sensitivity as monetary policies differ

3. Access the most attractive sectors and sources of income

- Greatly expand opportunity set with global and high yield bonds

	Canada	Global (ex-Canada)
Monetary Policy	Uncertain	Varied depending on country
Yield	Low	Varied depending on country
Bond Universe	Limited: $3.9T (3.2%)	Vast: $119.6T (96.8%)
High Yield Universe	Limited: $62.7M (1.9%)	Vast: $3.2T (98.1%)
Sector Concentration	Government, Financials	Diversified among all sectors

! Limiting a fixed income portfolio to Canadian bonds means being fully exposed to Canadian interest rates, low yields, and access to only a sliver of the global opportunity set of bonds.

Why global multi-sector bond strategy?

A global multi-sector bond strategy is designed to invest in multiple fixed income sectors, such as investment grade bonds, high yield bonds, emerging market debt, securitized debt and government bonds, around the world to capitalize on the best opportunities and will rotate between these sectors when the assessment of value changes. This diversification across geographies and sectors and can potentially reduce overall portfolio risk while allowing for an increase in yield.
